SUNDAY'S GAME GOES TO RAILROAD CITY

Rhinelander Loses By 5 to 2 Score---
Pitcher Groth Turns Trick
For Antigo

Erle Groth of Fort Washington, who is held under perpetual reservation by the Columbus American Association base ball club, solely because he happens to possess talent and skill as a slab artist of rare ability, signaled his appearance in the pitcher's box for Antigo last Sunday, with a victory over Rhinelander by the score of 5 to 2. The contest may be described as a mere personal triumph for the Fort Washington man and yet one must take his hat off in much admiration to the Antigo management for reaching out in desperation in order to win from Rhinelander by securing Groth, even though the investment was a loosening up of the Antigo bare ball treasury. After the game the average Antigo spectator failed to bubble with his usual enthusiasm over the triumph of the "importation", in fact the victory appeared to be looked upon with as much real glee and exultation as a republican landslide does to the average white man down in the heart of the black belt of Alabama. With Groth, who is considered the classiest pitcher in the state outside of the Milwaukee club, occupying the mound for Antigo, it was a foregone conclusion that Bell's team was up, a gainst a mighty, strong proposition, unless the usual Antigo luck was conspicuous by its absence. However fortune favored the representatives of Antigo on the ball field in all the breaks throughout the game and when taken into connection with Groth's masterly pitching, Rhinelander actually came out with colors flying, by reason of the fact that the boys played an errorless game and showed their class by not submitting to the predicted shut out. Hutchinson, the earnest conscientious twirler for Rhinelander, pitched fine ball and against a less formidable opponent than Groth, stood better than an even chance of winning his game. Only eight safeties were gathered off his delivery, three of which were scratchers, while seven men were made to sin the breeze. Groth on the other hand allowed six hits and struck out twelve men, securing a greater number of strike outs than any other pitcher that has opposed Rhinelander this season. Antigo brought three runs across the plate in the second inning on a hit batsman, followed by an out, a steal of second and bunching of three hits. A punctured batsman, a theft of second, an out at third and a hit by "Swamp Fox Flanagan" resulted in another run for Antigo in the fourth. In the sixth, although a pretty double play was pulled off by Post, Bieg and Jastram, Antigo succeeded in scoring its final run on a double and a single.

Clifford opened Rhinelander's half of the third inning by reaching first safely after striking out, on a passed ball, took second on a wild throw to first, stole third in easy fashion and scored on O'Melia's clean single to center.

CAMPERS START FIRES

Carelessness of People in Woods
Causes Much Damage.

It is probable that many of the destructive forest fires which have swept over this section of the state during the last few weeks were caused by carelessness of sportsmen in starting fires and not extinguishing the same when breaking camp. The deputy fire wardens have been active in causing the arrests of such people and many of them have been heavily fined by the courts.

Parties in the woods are warned against starting fires in dry times of the year and there is scarcely any excuse for not heeding this warning. The dropping of burning tobacco, cigar and cigarette butts, in dry underbrush is another way in which fierce fires have originated. Much serious damage has often resulted from this practice. The New North advises its readers who may go camping to exercise caution in this respect and thus save themselves and others unnecessary trouble.

CYCLONE LEAVES RUIN IN ITS PATH STORM IS WORST IN CITY'S HISTORY

TERRIFIC WIND SATURDAY EVENING DOES DAMAGE AMOUNTING TO THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS IN RHINELANDER

Catholic Church, Gas Plant, Veneer and Refrigerator Factories, E. S. Shepard and Jas. Blackmer Sustain Heaviest Losses—City Plunged in Darkness—
Glass Fronts Are Wrecked And Trees Are Uprooted—No One Is Killed Or Hurt.

At about ten o'clock last Saturday formed many stubs of a freakish, night wind storm of terrific velocity, nature. Illustrations of these pranks which in reality can be termed as nothing more or less than a cyclone swept through this city, carrying destruction in its path. Buildings, trees, telephone and telegraph lines were damaged. Houses were unroofed and barns and sheds hurled through the air. Telephones were rendered out of commission and communication with the outside world was completely cut off. By injury to the electric light wires the city was plunged in darkness for the remainder of the night. Fortunately there was no one killed or even hurt a face which seems almost miraculous. It is difficult at this time to give even an approximate estimate of the damage which the storm caused, but it is safe to state that the loss will figure well into the thousands.

Some of the Losses
A careful survey of the havoc wrought by the gale shows that the most serious losses were sustained by the Rhinelander Refrigerator Co., the Wisconsin Veneer Co., the Oneida Gas Co., St. Mary's church and the E. S. Shepard and Jas. Blackmer. There was also a long list of minor losses figuring from ten to one hundred dollars.

The Rhinelander Refrigerator Co. factory suffered to the extent of about five hundred dollars. The smoke stack at the veneer plant was blown down. The brick generating plant of the Oneida Gas Co. was unroofed and parts of the walls demolished. St. Mary's Catholic church was so badly wrecked that it is believed by many that the edifice will have to be practically rebuilt.

At "The Place," E. A. Shepard's beautiful residence in the southern part of the city, the storm gave starting evidence of its fury. Nearly all of the large trees which adorned the yard and also those in the nearby city park were uprooted. Several of the buildings on the grounds were harmed to an extent which will require considerable money to repair.

To a New North representative Mr. Shepard said that he places his loss at between six and seven thousand dollars.

James Blackmer's home at the junction of the Wisconsin and Pelican rivers was almost laid in ruins. A part of the roof was torn off and the contents of the house damaged. The barn and grainery were also ruined.

The roof of the Northwestern round house was raised and the tall steel chimneys thereon scattered in all directions. Two heavy box cars standing on one of the Northwestern freight tracks were blown some feet from the rails and turned on their sides. The wrecking outfit and crew from Antigo were here Monday forenoon and replaced the cars which require only a few repairs to again be in service.

Glass Fronts Are Ruined.

Hundreds of chimneys on dwelling houses in all parts of the city toppled over and small out buildings were moved through space into yards and streets. The large glass fronts in the Schlitz Hotel, Alpine Hotel, and post office were crashed out and a great damage done to the buildings.

All along the business and residence streets the storm left its mark. Windows and sky lights were broken, roofs were caved in and shade trees laid to the ground.

People who happened to be on the streets, hurrying for places of shelter, experienced narrow escapes from being struck by blocks of wood and other movable objects.

A heavy down pour of rain accompanied the wind and the interiors of buildings of which the roofs had been wrecked were flooded with water.

Freaks of the Cyclone

As is generally the case during cyclones or tornadoes the wind pe-

A coop which contained about one hundred chickens was carried man, feet and turned bottom side up, with only two of the fowls being killed.

A barn on the rear of Chas. Morrell's lot on Grant Street, which was occupied by an Indian pony, was swept over a high fence into an adjoining yard; the horse escaped unhurt.

A broom handle was forced through a porch post on a south side residence.

The clock on St. Mary's church tower was sent flying over the roof of the church and fell in the rear of the building, and odd to relate did not lose a second in time.

The popcorn stand conducted by J. Henry Hagan at the Merchants State bank corner was sent flying along Davenport street at a merry clip and finally landed against a post near the First National bank. Mr. Hagan emerged from the wagon half dazed, and enquired, "Where am I?" While receiving a severe jolt he came out of the experience without a scratch.

Sight Seers Visit Ruins
Sunday was a busy day for sight-seers. Crowds of men, women and children visited the different places where the tornado did its worst.

St. Mary's church, the gas plant, the Shepard and Blackmer properties attracted the most attention. Amateur photographs were in full force and some interesting snap shot pictures of the storm's destruction were obtained.

At St. Mary's church ropes have been stretched at a safe distance from the building in order to keep back the people and thus prevent possible accident. The structure is considered unsafe. The amount of damage to the church is not known at present.

Storm Is Predicted
From the continued drought and oppressive hot weather which this section has experienced this summer, Saturday's cyclone and copious rain was predicted by people who profess a knowledge of things pertaining to the weather. As one man truthfully expressed it, "the elements are certain to get busy and hand us some thing out of the ordinary after such a long dry hot spell."

Strange enough the storm confined its wrath to the south and central parts of the city and the north side was but lightly touched. The high elevation of that section no doubt switched the wind from its course and likewise checked its force and speed.

All damage is being repaired as rapidly as possible. The telephone company has its line men busy and the entire system will again be in working order by the last of the week.

Last Cyclone in 1898

The cyclone of Saturday recalls to the minds of the people of Rhinelander the death dealing and destructive storm which visited this section on the evening of Wednesday, May 12, 1898. In this city the results of that cyclone were slight and few compared to the terrific effects felt elsewhere. At Pennington, then the Soo line division point east of Rhinelander, two men were killed and four seriously injured. The entire village was devastated.

Several farm houses near this city were destroyed. Antigo was also in the track of that dreadful storm and the list of fatalities there numbered three. Standing timber throughout this part of northern Wisconsin was hit and lumbermen were heavy losers.

Cyclone, Tornado and windstorm insurance costs only $4.00 per $1000.00 for three years—Call or 'phone Barnes-Weesner Agency.

MINOCQUA YOUTH IS KILLED BY OFFICER

Roy Jossart Is Fatally Shot When He Attempts to Resist Arrest At Hurley

When attempting to resist arrest by two policemen at Hurley, Roy Jossart, a Minocqua young man, was shot through the stomach by one of the officers. He was removed to the Twin City hospital at Ironwood where he died a few hours after the shooting.

The story of the unfortunate affair as told in this city is that the officers suspected Jossart of having been implicated in a safe robbery at Iron Belt and endeavored to take him into custody. The young man, it is alleged, refused to accompany the policemen and drew a revolver. He fired twice, both of the bullets injuring an officer named Dardas. The other blue coat, Asplunwall by name, thinking his brother officer might possibly get killed, whipped out his gun and shot Jossart, the bullet entering the abdomen.

Jossart was twenty-four years of age and his family are respected people of Minocqua. For some time he had been away from home and relatives had no knowledge of his whereabouts.

Whether or not he was implicated in the Iron Belt robbery is not known although he and two companions were suspected of the crime. One of the men is now in jail at Hurley and the other is still at large.

The funeral of Jossart was held at Minocqua last Thursday afternoon. Friends of the family in Rhinelander extend them sympathy in their time of trouble.

PRINCIPAL IS ENGAGED

B. Mack Dresden Is Head of New Training School.
July 5th the County School Board unanimously elected B. Mack Dresden principal of the new Oneida County Training School for Teachers. Mr. Dresden comes to us highly recommended as a student and a teacher. He has been a professor in Oshkosh State Normal fifteen years and has strong endorsement from his co-workers. Prof. F. E. Mitchell says of him:

Mr. F. A. Lowell,
Supt. Oneida County,
Rhinelander, Wis.

Dear Sir:
In reference to Mr. B. Mac Dresden, who is an applicant for the Principalship of your County Training School, will say that I believe that there is no other man in the state that will give you the efficient service that Mr. Dresden will.

He is the most tireless worker I have ever known, a good organizer and a good mixer with the common people.

He will get more students into your school in less time than any man I know of. He will so organize public opinion in your county that the whole county will soon be led to give the school its hearty support.

Very truly,

F. E. MITCHELL
Prof. Clow says, "I recommend him for that position without hesitation."

Resident Regent Harrington, of Oshkosh speaks of Prof. Dresden thus:

"I know him to be a capable and popular teacher, an excellent organizer and a hard worker. I shall be glad to know you have secured him as principal. Yours very truly,

JOHN M. HARRINGTON,

Resident Regent,
Oshkosh, Wis.

TO BRING SETTLERS HERE

H. F. Clement and G. Goldsmith of Janesville were in this vicinity this week looking over tracts of land which they intend purchasing for themselves and others. It is their plan to bring new settlers to Oneida county from the southern part of the state. These people are practical farmers and would prove well come additions to our population.

WOLVES IN CASSIAN

Wolves are said to be numerous in the town of Cassian, this county. Several of the animals were trapped there during the last week and the farmers are using every means to get rid of the pests.

NEARBY TOWNS

Superior—The raise in the price of wheat and flour that has gone into effect this month has practically put a stop to the export feature of the flour business of the local mills. It is also expected that with the coming of the new crop domestic business will keep full crews busy most of the fall, but it is not thought that the season's volume of business will amount to near the usual total.

Grand Rapids—Fire Thursday afternoon, due to the explosion of gasoline in a tailor shop in the Ledger block, destroyed that building and burned Mrs. Grace Wilson and her two children to death. Mrs. Wilson was confined to her bed with the shower baths have been installed and the plastering will soon begin. It is intended that the building will be ready for occupancy when school opens on Sept. 6.

Crandon—Upon complaint of W. E. Finnegan, deputy fire marshall, Wm. Koben has been placed under arrest charged with having set fire to his dwelling house on June 30. The trial has been arranged for August 17, and the defendant placed under bonds. Mr. Koben has always borne a good reputation and his friends believe him innocent of the charge.

Antigo—The school census just completed shows that there are 2,448 children between the ages of 4 and 20 years in this city. This is an increase of 256 over last year.

Prentice—At Phillips last Tuesday, Matthew Miller, a resident of Catawba was found guilty by a jury of having started fires in the woods of the county to law. Judge Sackett sentenced him to $25 and costs, the whole amounting to $110. Mr. Miller will appeal the case to the circuit court.

Ashland—For employing Ed. Merrier, a boy under sixteen years of age, Raymond Martin, foreman of the Clark-on Coal Company's dock, was arrested on the complaint of H. L. Pedersen, state factory inspector, of $10,000.

Young Merrier was at work on the docks only a few hours when he met with injuries which very nearly proved fatal. The boy is only four years old but large for his age. He did not have a permit to work and therefore was hired contrary to law. Sentence against Martin was suspended.

Stevens Point—The citizens of Stevens Point are elated over the good news that the Soo railway company is to make this city its central division point for all passenger and freight trains and engine crews for all trains passing this point or making this their terminus. The company has purchased sixty acres of land here which will be used for terminal purposes. Storage tracks with a capacity for 3600 cars will be built. The coming of this division will mean the addition of approximately 250 new families. A rousing jollification in celebration of the glad tidings was held here Thursday night.

Tomahawk—Completion of the first floor of the new high school building is well under way. The floors have been laid in all the rooms, pipes for son was confined to her bed with the shower baths have been installed and the plastering will soon begin. It is intended that the building will be ready for occupancy when school opens on Sept. 6.

Marinette—The Libnum Chemical Company will build a plant in this city at once. It is proposed to manufacture alcohol, acetic acid and products from wood shavings and saw dust. The plant will be one of many to be located at different points in the United States by New York and Chicago capitalists. F. G. Hood, formerly a Pentago lumberman is president and general manager.

Marshfield—As soon as plans are ready the water works system will be improved by putting in a concrete reservoir capable of storing 25,000 gallons of water. The cost of the improvement will be $40,000.

Ladysmith—The News-Budget this week contained a cut of the proposed new Rusk County Training School building. The building committee is now asking for bids for the construction of the same. It is going to be a beautiful structure, thoroughly modern and will represent an outlay of $10,000.

Tomahawk—For the convenience of bathers three bath houses have been built by the city on the banks of the Wisconsin river. Two of the houses are for the use of men and boys and the other is for women. This act of the city is greatly appreciated by the public.

Eagle River—A lunch of alfalfa was cut on the Persohn farm. This was the first alfalfa reported to be growing in this vicinity and as it is hard to state of its progress here, it is hard to state of its progress here. The alfalfa exceeded the clover in this their terminus. The company has purchased sixty acres of land here which will be used for terminal purposes. Storage tracks with a capacity for 3600 cars will be built. The coming of this division will mean the addition of approximately 250 new families. A rousing jollification in celebration of the glad tidings was held here Thursday night.

Tomahawk—Completion of the first floor of the new high school building is well under way. The floors have been laid in all the rooms, pipes for son was confined to her bed with the shower baths have been installed and the plastering will soon begin. Ironwood—Jacob Makinen, a trammer employed at the East Norrie mine, was instantly killed Wednesday morning last. A blast had just been fired in a stope and Makinen was stooping over shoveling the dirt when a piece of rock came down from the back, striking his head and crushing his skull. He was about 15 years of age.

A FEW SHORT WEEKS

Mr. J. S. Bartell, Edwardsville, Ill., writes: "A few months ago my kidneys became lame and pain across the backache and pain across the kidneys and hips. Foley Kidney Pills promptly cured my backache and corrected the action of my kidneys. This was brought about after my using them for only a few short weeks and I can cheerfully recommend them."

CORRIGAN LEAVES RAILWAY CO.

On June 1st, Walter D. Corrigan, formerly Assistant Attorney General of the State, and later, General Solicitor and trial lawyer for the Wisconsin Central Railway Company, and Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie Railway Company, discontinued his connection with those roads. He was General Solicitor of the Wisconsin Central at the time that road was absorbed by the Soo and at that time re-entered the general practice of law, as a member of the law firm of Glickman & Corrigan of Milwaukee, but for the accommodation of the Soo Railway Company Law Department, consented to try a considerable number of pending cases in the circuit and supreme courts of this, and neighboring states, which work he has now completed. He intends, henceforth, to have no railway connections, but will devote his entire time to his firm's general practice.

HARD TO REALIZE

When we see a circus advertised we always begin to wonder what there is new and can possibly be afforded more than we have seen before. This year, as each past year, Campbell Brothers have added attractions and surprises for the public, found and perfected only by great labor, patience and skill till one may say, "I never thought such things possible." New trapeze acts, new juggling acts—new tumbling and sensational gymnastic feats—new arena wonders—daring feats of bareback riding and all the rest too numerous to mention. One must actually see to appreciate and their wonder grows as the show progresses. The perfection of these big shows is the result of hard work, both of brain and muscle, and the circus now offered to the public by the Campbell Brothers is perfect in every department. Will exhibit here in Rhinelander Thursday Aug 11th. Don't fail to see the street parade at 10 a. m. rain or shine.

MEET AT OCONOMOWOC

The summer meeting of the State Horticultural Society to be held in Oconomowoc, August 17, promises to be of unusual interest to many, besides the professional horticulturist. "Back to the Land" is the main topic and several well known Wisconsin people including C. D. Whitnall, City Treasurer of Milwaukee, Ernest Jonzenbach Pres. of the Shetorgan Light & Power Co., are on the program for addresses. Lest these men, city bred with a longing for the fruits of toil should paint the joys of life on a fruit farm in too bright colors Secretary Cranefield has arranged for discussions by practical fruit men who will show the other side of the picture.

ARE FIGHTING FIRES

According to the Antigo Republican summer resorters at Summit Lake instead of rustication in the good old fashion by boat riding and fishing, are engaged in the exciting and not over pleasant pastime of fire fighting. Cottage owners and residents of Summit are summoning all the men they can find to the scene of action and are fighting with all the arts and devices known to fight forest fires. The fires at present are near the cottages and the situation has become so perilous that it was thought necessary to light back fires in order to burn up all the brush that might prove to be fuel for the real forest fires.

MONICO WINS FROM PELICAN

The base ball game Sunday between Dr. Kabel's Monico Wonders and the Pelican Lake "used to be" resulted in an easy victory for the Wonders by the generous score of 24 to 2. Of course the boys at the resort town claim that they were robbed out by Sheriff Jilson, who was present to prevent trouble, says that the umpire was perfectly honest. A return engagement will be held at Monico providing the Pelican lads can summon the necessary courage to bear another defeat. The fifty dollars was cheerfully handed to the doctor's team by John Burns, mayor of Pelican.

The heavy weight of the occupants of the auto caused the spokes in one wheel to "dish" and the car capsize and swung around smashing things generally. The report has it that all of the party were feeling merry and in handling the car paid no regard to the speed limit.

HELP THE TEACHERS

Supt. Kamm of Forest County Makes
Interesting Talk To Normal
Students

H. A. Kamm, superintendent of schools of Forest county, delivered an interesting address to the students in attendance at the summer Normal at the High school building, Tuesday.

Mr. Kamm spoke on "Essentials of Good Teaching," a subject which he handled in a manner which made a lasting impression on the minds of his hearers. The New North presents to its readers the following portion of his talk:

Recently the cry went up that there was something the matter with the public schools. Many criticisms have been offered, yet there has up to the present time appeared no Moses to lead the schools out of the dark Egypt. There are recognized defects which no one can deny, and since this is true many would shift the blame upon the teachers, their inefficiency, narrow-mindedness, or lack of good judgement. But the school in a general way, is a reflection of the ideals of the community in the matter of education. The schools are just what the people make them and not a bit more or less. It is too much to suppose that you young people who are just starting out in the world to make your calling and election sure by attending a six weeks summer institute should be charged forthwith with the defects of our public school system. Nay, should I say what I am not expected to say, as county superintendent the public school is to be congratulated, Mr. Superintendent, upon so good looking an accession to the calling. I have always wondered why the schools should come in for so large an amount of attention, unless it is that there are so many good looking teachers in the profession. But as it may, it is true that the schools are getting their due amount of attention, and I take it that this is a very hopeful sign. In the past attention was chiefly directed to the raising of taxes (a high enough proposition I admit), and how to increase the flow of milk, the weight of the steer or the yield of grain. In fact every one was so busy dancing with prosperity that the school became a sort of wall flower. In fact the men have been so busy flirting with prosperity that the education of the boys and girls has been left to the women and I want to say right now that they have done nobly. They, the men, however, have prescribed the course of study when they could get time from their other work. The wonder is not that there are recognized defects as that there should be so great efficiency. For after all the men and women who are doing things in America today received their training in the public schools, yea, in the despised country schools mostly.

Our schools have done much to make this country what it is in intelligence, in ideals, in progress. They have been and are the chief factor in converting the alien who seeks refuge on our shores into an American citizen.

But conditions are changing and our social system and very government is changing. The old order of things must give way to the new. The needs of the people now are not what they were a few years ago. In many respects they are essentially different. Hence a cry has gone out for a change in our system of education. Some time since, there was created "the commission of country life" and this body sent in a report not so long ago and recommended among other things a different kind of school that we have been accustomed to—a great need of trained teachers well fitted and the training school for teachers and the institute school have been established to meet this need.

In this changing order of things the trade school—one that shall teach the children as much of the outdoors as indoors kind of knowledge. Now the person who enters the calling of a teacher seriously has entered a profession that is unlike any other in many vital respects. In the first place it is the poorest paid job of any in the country. The tenure of office or position is most insecure. And the sacrifice demanded is something short of martyrdom. Nay, I would say to those who are about to become teachers unless you are willing to forsake political ambitions, the acquiring of stocks and bonds or railroads, and the associations of practical men and women you had better quit before it is too late forever. But many of the teachers of our state do not make the business a life job, the more the pity. Yet we are learning and in a few years conditions will be such that a man or woman may be assured of a comfortable living in this work and those who are

Wisconsin's Next Governor Speaks On The Issues Of The Campaign

F. E. McGovern, a republican candidate for the governorship made a splendid address last evening. He was clear cut outspoken and held the audience in rapt attention for two hours. He first dealt with national issues and then applied the same principle to the states and the cities. Mr. McGovern boldly stated that this is a fight between the people and the special interests and then proceeded to illustrate his statement with examples. He explained in full how a man in sympathy with the masses could interpret the laws in their favor and on the contrary how a man in sympathy with the corporations could interpret the laws to their advantage. Mr. McGovern showed the necessity for all interested in the welfare of the masses to get together. He demonstrated clearly that the special interests cared little for party fealty but they wish results. He also warned the people that they should seek results too.

He said that county option could wait until this all important issue of the struggle between the masses and the special interests is settled.

Encores were frequent during the address. It was evident that the speaker had the audience with him. Before the regular address of the evening by Mr. McGovern, Honorable D. B. Stevens spoke to the audience. He announced in no mistakable terms that he should be governed by the principles in his vote upon the U. S. Senator which the supreme court has already upheld. He discussed the various issues now before the people and showed that he had given them no little attention and that he is right upon them.

C. H. Roepcke, the chairman of the republican county committee, introduced the speakers and lauded Mr. McGovern's past record in a liberal manner. This is the first political speech of the campaign but we expect many more before the September primaries.

qualified and found ready will get the good things. The teacher's training is the tools with which she will have to work and the sharper the tools the better the work, therefore we should endeavor to fit ourselves for this important task, well. To this end scholarship is the first essential of good teaching. It is impossible to impart to others what we do not know ourselves. That the knowledge which you possess may be represented in a manner suited to the comprehension of the children under the teacher's charge it is necessary to get training in methods of teaching and this is what an institute is for, or a Normal or Training School.

Yet with all your scholarship and training I would most earnestly urge upon the necessity of daily preparation for the recitation. (Share your pupils drink from a running stream and not a stagnant pool.) The great secret of good teaching in the recitation is for the teacher to know just a little before hand what to do next, and this thing to do next will have to be thought out before hand. Whenever the teacher does not know what to do next she is lost and her school slips swiftly away from her management and all. It is most essential necessary then that a teacher should have some plan thought out by which to work.

There is another essential of good teaching and that is common sense. This is the power to see things as they are and to do things as the occasion demands. It is a quality not acquired, it is inherited. Some one has said, "If you lack scholarship go to a university for aid, if piety pray to God for help, but if you lack common sense neither man nor God can help you. Knowledge without it is foolishness. Holy Writ says of the Great Teacher that he was full of grace and truth. Now whatever else may be meant by grace in this case certainly common sense was one of the chief elements. This quality is also the chief part of the so called natural ability in any line of business or profession. Without it do not attempt to teach.

Now what will an observer see in a well conducted school? What shall a member of the school board or the superintendent consider as important when he visits your school? There will be order and system. This does not necessarily mean absolute quiet. There will be a daily program with recitations and study periods coming at the same time each day. In the recitation the teacher will direct the pupils to do the reciting and not try to show off her superior knowledge by doing all the talking. She will hold the pupils strictly responsible for the work and not do the reciting in many subjects she will repeat the work from day to day in one form or another, in order to drill the thing in to the mind so it can be got out quick when wanted. She will test her pupils judiciously by not requiring knowledge beyond their depth of comprehension. At the end of the recitation she will give proper directions to the pupils what to study and how the next day. Of course the government and discipline will not appear prominent, there will be no calling for order in loud tones, nor scolding, nor nagging.

Now the last essential I would mention is the necessity of co-operation on the part of the parents with the teacher. To secure this co-operation the teacher must of necessity have the respect and confidence of the parents as well as of the children. Hence it is necessary that we should meet the patrons of the school preferably on their own ground, and here is where personality and all that goes with it—character and reputation—counts for most. The teacher may have the wisdom of Solomon and the tact of a diplomat but without the encouragement and help of the home her efforts can not bring forth the best results. Teaching is no cold blooded process by which we can put our money on the red or the blue and trust to luck to win. It is the building of character. It becomes the duty therefore for the teacher to meet the parents of the children but not, of course, if the parents do not desire it. Then the teacher has done her part it is not her fault if the people do not do theirs.

However theoretical it may sound the highest duty of the teacher is no so much in imparting knowledge as stimulating a love for its pursuit. To this end we should teach accurately, earnestly and thoroughly.

A JOLLY COMEDY

It is said truly that we get sufficient sorrow and cares in our everyday life without going to the theatre for them. Where is the sense in spending money for "melancholy pleasures"? The average amusement seeker is that in every sense of the word—he seeks amusement. He attends the theatre to enjoy himself, likes to laugh and forget his troubles. Consequently in looking for entertainment, he prefers good clean comedy to tragedy, because he is in need of relaxation. "A laugh is worth a thousand groans in any market" is a most true saying and the jolly comedy "Hello Bill," to be seen here, has the market cornered in good, hearty, laughter. A school board convention will be held at the high school building Friday, August 5. All members of the rural school boards are expected to be present. Two dollars a day and 2 cents per mile each way for traveling expenses are allowed to each member in attendance. This is an important meeting. It means much to Oneida county schools. It is the only time during the school year when all the school officials of the county can get together and discuss the best interest of the rural schools.

MUST STAND TRIAL

Detective, Who Shot Pride, Is Bound Over to Court

Wm. Meyers, the Milwaukee private detective who on Monday, July 11, shot and seriously wounded Chas. Pride at Hackley, was arraigned before Judge Higgins at Eagle River, Monday and bound over for trial at the January term of circuit court. Meyers is charged with assault with intent to kill.

At the hearing there were several witnesses for the state, from Hackley, whose testimony was damaging to the detective. Meyers' bonds were fixed at $1000.

Pride, it is reported, is improving and complete recovery from his injuries are anticipated. The man's strong vitality was sufficient to bring him safely through the ordeal.

REGISTERED MAIL

Due to a new law, persons sending registered mail will be obliged to demand a receipt, otherwise the post-office clerks will issue none. This action was decided on as a means of cutting down expenses of the post-office department, it having been noted that only a comparatively few persons care for the receipts. #### KOESKE IS POSTMASTER

At Antigo Richard Koeske has been appointed postmaster by President Taft after a long fight for his appointment by Congressman Morse. In speaking of the new postmaster the Antigo News Item says the following:

"His appointment meets with general favor in the community, as 'Dick' Koeske is popular with all classes and it was conceded that the postoffice 'plum' should be handed around. Postmaster Cleary has held the position for nearly nine years and, while he has made an efficient and obliging official, it was generally considered that he had been there long enough and should step down and give some one else a chance at it. Mr. Koeske will undoubtedly be placed in charge within a very few days."

THEY SAVE THE HAY

During the electrical storm early Tuesday morning lightning struck a barn owned by Messrs. Siewright and Parker on the old Ross farm near Lake George and in the fire which resulted the building was destroyed. In conversation with Mr. Parker he says that about one ton and a half of hay was raised on the land this year and this enormous crop was about to be harvested and stored in the barn. Fortunately the owners delayed the cutting of the crop or their loss from the blaze would have been greater.

This will in all probability prevent a hay famine in the city this year.

WHERE'S THAT DEPOT?

Another summer is beginning to wane and still there has been no attempt made by the Soo railway company toward building that proposed new depot. As far back as ten years ago the report was given out that the company intended to erect a new and modern passenger station here and the same rumor has been given circulation every year since. The present dingy wooden structure which the road is pleased to term a depot has furnished jokes for the funny men in nearly every minstrel show which ever appeared here. The traveling public advises it through out the country in a manner which does not reflect credit on the enterprise of the Soo line, which is one of the greatest railway systems in the United States. There is no doubt but what the company will put up a new structure in Rhinelander—but the question is, when?

MEN ARE GOING WEST

Last Saturday afternoon a gang of Chicago young men, who to all appearances belonged to the tough element of that city, transferred from the Northwestern afternoon passenger train to the Soo line on their way to the western harvest fields. They were roughly dressed, well versed in all the latest slang and they did not look good to Chief Straub who kept close watch on them during their brief sojourn here.

Regardless of the discouraging reports from the Dakotas that the wheat crop has been a failure, and consequently work is scarce there seems to be a steady drift of men toward those states. Rhinelander is also contributing to this movement as already several lads have left for that country.

MARRIES MERRILL GIRL

At St. Francis Xavier's Catholic church at Merrill Monday morning there was solemnized the marriage of Miss Marie Obermeyer of that city and James Sheehan of Rhinelander. Only relatives and a few close friends of the young couple were present at the ceremony.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents.

The happy pair departed Monday evening on a honeymoon of two weeks during which time they will visit at Marinette and other cities. The bride is one of the popular young ladies of Merrill and esteemed by all who know her. Mr. Sheehan's many friends congratulate him on his choice of a life companion.

THE WELCOME RAIN

The drought is broken; glad rain has fell. The fires are quenched and all is well. The dust is laid; the worry o'er the crops are saved; we'll fret no more. But thanks to God in reverence we will humbly give dear Lord to Thee. But on thy wisdom we'll rely All through our lives until we die. And, when at last, we are called to rest, May we be numbered with the blessed; And while on earth we still remain God save us from the dirth of rain. Mrs. D. M. Taylor. Monico, July 26.

ARE ELECTED DIRECTORS

A meeting of the stockholders of the Moline Typewriter company was held at Appleton recently and the following board of directors was elected: James A. Wood, John Moline, E. A. Edmonds, George A. #### GRAIN CROP IS GOOD Local showers in many parts of Wisconsin Saturday and early Sunday morning were especially helpful to corn, particularly in the North. If the results of an inspection of the crop on the university farm made Saturday are a criterion, the corn in this state is standing the drought exceptionally well and has quite upset the prevailing beliefs.

Small grains, too, have stood the drought remarkably well. The northwestern part of the state is an exception. There crops have been ruined, the sandy soil contributing to this result. Grain is looking fine in the eastern and southern parts. It is less of a crop in the southwest part.

Threshing on the university farm began Monday. Winter wheat and barley in these fields are in excellent condition.

Thackeray's Correction.
A distinguished foreigner visiting Epsom Downs in Thackeray's company noticed, St. James' Budget affirms, many men dressed as sailors who were not, to native and experienced eyes, the real article.
"Ah," said the visitor, "these are, I suppose, what you call your British tars?"
"Oh, no," replied Thackeray. "Only Epsom salts."
The Bible in China and Turkey.
For the first six months of last year 300,000 Bibles were printed and circulated in China, while during the whole of the previous year the number was only 600,000. Nearly every Bible was paid for. In Turkey there is also a great increase.

According to the Delineator, Leah was having her first lesson in punctuation. On her return from school she explained to her brother that a period was a dot, and a comma was a period that had sprouted.
Safety-Valve.
Some men would swell up and burst if they didn't get married, and have some of the conceit taken out of them. —Atchison, Kan., Globe.
Poverty's Handicap.
Measurements made in London schools prove that the children of the well-to-do are better grown for their age than the children of the poor.
Independent and Bessy.
Our idea of being important and independent is being able to boss people around and jostle them the way the van men do with the people they're working for.

The Pea Long Known to Man.
From its original home as a native, wild growth in western Asia and adjacent Europe the cultivated pea has been taken by man to all civilized countries. It has been cultivated for thousands of years, for dried peas have been found in Egyptian tombs.

Quality Hard to Acquire.
Though liability may be acquired, it is never quite the same as the natural gift. There is in the acquired character a lack of spontaneity—the appearance of effort cannot always be concealed.

Diverse Salvage Methods.
By the old method of salvage the rents and breaks in the hull of the vessel were closed and the water pumped out. By the latest system the ship is rid of water by pumping air into the holds, which floats the vessel.

Australian Plague Checked.
The rabbit in Australia is now kept in check. The animal is still a nuisance—a most expensive nuisance, but he no longer actually threatens the life of the pastoral industry.

A Disrespectful Comment.
"You don't think it necessary for a young man to study Latin?" "No," answered the athletic youth, "Latin used to be a noble and poetic language. Now it's just a secret code for the doctor and the druggist."

"Cheerfulness."
What, indeed, does that word "cheerfulness" imply? It means a contented spirit; it means a pure heart; it means a kind, loving disposition; it means a generous appreciation of others, and a modest opinion of self.—Thackeray.

Good Work of Youthful Scholar.
Jane Davies, under twelve years of age, of Blaencwn, Wales, a Sunday school scholar, has learned by heart the whole of the New Testament during the past year.

Requirements for Ideal Nation.
In our legislation we want wisdom as well as enthusiasm for ideals. What is wanted in a nation is that every individual should be fit in body and alert in mind.

Honor.
Honor is that quality which prompts a man to avenge attacks upon his own women, but fails to restrain him from making attacks upon other men's women.—Smart Set.

The Need of Friends.
Every human being is born to companionship. Our first need is a breath of air, the next is a friend. Never till we are done with the air can we spare the friend. I think not even then.—C. G. Ames.

Sense of Honor.
The sense of honor is of so fine and delicate a nature that it is only to be met with in minds which are naturally noble, or in such as have been cultivated by great examples or a refined education.—Addison.

Most Valuable Bedstead.
In the French state collection of furniture there is a Masonic bedstead, surmounted by a large canopy. It is of extraordinary height and is ornamented with some of the most delicate carving it is possible for the hand of man to turn out. The French government has had several tempting offers for this beautiful couch, and it refused some time ago 15,000 guineas for it.

Remedy for Croup.

Hotel Manager—There! Now I have so arranged the prices on the menu that no one can order less than a dollar's worth.—Megendorfer-Blaetter.

Their Own Victims.
"Why is it," said the discouraged housewife, "that all our cooks become so discontented and irritable?" "That's easily explained," answered Mr. Groucher. "They have to eat their own dinners and get dyspepsia."

Two Evils.
"It must be awful to be caught with the goods on you."
"It's worse to be caught with the goods off you. I forgot three of my wife's errands yesterday."

Ambiguous.
"I wonder what the teacher meant about the singing of my two daughters?" "What did he say?" "He said that Mamie's voice was good, but Maude's was better still."

The Thoughtful Spouse.
Guest (from the country)—This is excellent wine. I must take home a few bottles to my wife. She never drinks wine, but at any rate she'll feel that I didn't forget her.—Fleeger-Blaetter.

Atmospheric Qualities.
The earth's atmosphere extends some 40 miles in height, but becomes, at only a few miles from the earth's surface, too thin to support any form of animal life.
